DATO' SERI IDRIS JUSOH

*Minister of Higher Education
& YSS Patron*

“ Student Volunteers Foundation (YSS) is the best example of success in changing the lives of local communities. ”

“If all 1.2 million higher education students participated in volunteering activities, imagine the benefits that will bring to the society.”

“There are a variety of volunteer activities that students can take part in, and in 2016, I call on every university to provide a framework to recognise students’ involvement in volunteering activities.”

“ I hope YSS will become a Centre of Volunteer Excellence and Efforts (CoVE). ”

DATO' ZURAIDAH ATAN

YSS Chairman

“YSS is hoping to assist the nation to make volunteering policy a success, at the same time making Malaysia as a student volunteer hub and create student volunteer icons in the global stage.”

“The most important thing is that we want student volunteers’ alumni to continue with their volunteering activities even when they are pursuing a career in the future.

Whenever disaster affects our community, they will spearhead volunteering in line with correct standard operating procedures developed by YSS.”

WHO WE ARE

KARELAWAN
SISWA
Malaysia
Student volunteers

Student
Volunteers Foundation/
Yayasan Sukarelawan Siswa
(YSS) was established with the aim to inculcate the spirit of volunteerism and camaraderie among the students of tertiary education and also to produce global student volunteer icons. With the tagline “winning people’s hearts, mind and soul beyond borders”, YSS is committed in training student volunteers through high impactful students’ volunteer missions domestically and internationally held throughout the year. YSS focuses on capacity building of students where the students are trained physically and mentally through the implementation of “immersion” concept where volunteers eat, live and breathe with the community, concept of “the right volunteers for the right job” where volunteers do hard volunteer work and also acquire leadership skills and crisis management skills throughout volunteering period.
