Our Story

Yayasan Sukarelawan Siswa (YSS) is an entity owned by the Malaysian government under the Ministry of National Unity. Since its establishment in 2012, YSS was initially part of the Ministry of Higher Education and presently transitioned under the purview of the current ministry on December 3, 2022.

YSS aims to foster national integration and unity through volunteerism. Since its inception, it has successfully executed 60 high-impact volunteer missions across Sabah, Sarawak, and Southeast Asia, including Indonesia, Laos, and Vietnam.

YSS collaborates with strategic partners to support low-income households (B40) and other marginalised communities.

As of December 2024, YSS has trained 2,067 student volunteers in an immersive environment where they 'eat, live and breathe' with the communities, allowing them to engage deeply with the locals through experiential learning during missions.

As YSS alumni, they have access to ongoing opportunities for personal development and the chance to inspire positive change within their communities.

YSS Strategic House 2024 - 2026

Speech by Minister

YB Datuk Aaron Ago Dagang

Minister of National Unity/YSS Patron

In the spirit of Malaysia MADANI and Unity,

Greetings,

Firstly, I would like to express my gratitude to all the stakeholders and the big family of the Ministry of National Unity (Kementerian Perpaduan Negara or KPN), who made it possible for us to share a wholesome year that left an indelible mark on our unity canvas. Ever since the previous reforms on the Ministry's strategic approaches to humanising national unity efforts to all quarters, we further empowered our 'unity in diversity' ethos to encapsulate all-rounded excellence in socioeconomic development and advancing community welfare through a series of programme-based efforts undertaken under the umbrella of KPN and its strategic alliances.

Yayasan Sukarelawan Siswa (YSS), with its view on 'volunteerism for unity', has assumed a remarkable role in shaping Malaysia's youth volunteerism efforts that have set an exemplary model in the global arena since its establishment. YSS's reputation as a youth enabling factor, along with its connections with student communities from higher education institutions nationwide, has been proven vital in ushering a new dawn for the National Unity Agenda. I believe that in years to come, YSS will become another potent entity that empowers our unity ecosystem through its resilient volunteer leaders as envisioned within the National Unity Blueprint 2021-2030.

YSS's involvement in various high-impact projects and community-level programmes over the years has been integral to KPN's noble intent to engage with the public through 'Semarak Perpaduan' cluster that celebrates our national diversity to fortify our national unity. In this course, YSS's aspirations to nurture youths' potential in the mapping of social stability and equity through volunteerism have been collectively siphoned to a mixture of volunteerism pillars comprising educational opportunities enhancement, sustainability, community well-being, digital transformation, community empowerment and social impact mobilisation.

With more than a decade's worth of volunteering excellence, I am very proud of YSS's recognition and achievements garnered through its relentless endeavours. YSS's capacity to pioneer a global movement working for a better tomorrow is evident through its prestigious appearance as a host for the recent International Volunteering Cooperation Organisations (IVCO) 2023 Conference that bridges international delegates from the public and corporates around the world in a discourse that highlights youth participation in addressing the plaguing social challenges.

All in all, I am hoping that YSS will continue to ameliorate the next-gen human capital development with volunteerism as its core standard to mobilise the impact of Malaysia MADANI's unity ecosystem in the eyes of the world. I also envision YSS as a social impact arm under the auspices of KPN to heed the call of global concerns in matters revolving around continuous developments, innovation and youth empowerment as future changemakers.

Speech by Chairman

YBhg. Tan Sri Dato' Hj. Alimuddin Hj. Md Dom

Chairman of Yayasan Sukarelawan Siswa

Positive empowerment towards national unity and integration efforts has undergone continuous state-of-the-art development processes to elevate nation-building purposes, cultural competencies, and youth volunteerism efforts at the global scale. At Yayasan Sukarelawan Siswa (YSS), we revolutionised our 'volunteerism for unity' dogma to be inclusive and everlasting, aligning with the Ministry of National Unity's (KPN) aspirations for prosperous and unified citizenships of Malaysia MADANI.

With more than a decade's worth of excellence in promoting national unity through active youth participation in volunteerism efforts, the essence of holistic human capital development has never been so vital to transforming our national volunteerism landscape. The year 2023 bears witness to YSS's perpetual and unwavering dreams to remain salient as one of the top global changemakers adopting youth volunteerism as part of methodological approaches in driving social changes.

Despite Malaysia's economic recovery and GDP growth of around 3.6% in 2023, regional disparities in development persist. States such as Sabah and Kelantan continue to record higher poverty incidence compared to the national average, reflecting ongoing challenges in achieving equitable progress under SDG 1.2.1 (proportion of the population living below the national poverty line). Exerting our volunteerism frameworks into formidable and meaningful actions to change the fate of the affected states, YSS surgically redirects its volunteering works through the Ini Warisan Kita: YSS Student Volunteers Mission' series with its rigorous impact-creation projects and cultural appreciation initiatives to cater to diverse communities in both Sabah and Sarawak. 2024 also marks new milestone for YSS as we organised our first volunteer mission in West Malaysia; Kedah and Kelantan.

Due to the complex and multi-layered issues surrounding the current national efforts to empower communities at large, YSS adopts multidimensional approaches and holistic strategies to achieve sustainable and positive impacts that could improve the livelihood of various social groups, ethnics and minorities through various paradigms, including educational access, digital transformation, entrepreneurial growth, talent development and environmental efforts. To put these motions into executable actions, YSS continuously elevates its corporate identity through strategic alliances with various NGOs, industry partners and our volunteer leaders as enabling factors while being attentive to heed the global call towards standardised volunteerism practices.

Our determination to make volunteerism efforts outstanding in the global arena is evident through our motion on the role and place of young leaders as catalysts for social changes and intergenerational solidarity at the International Volunteering Cooperation Organisations (IVCO) Conference 2023, attended by major industry players who envision being at the forefront of volunteerism's impacts. Our linkages with both private and public higher education institutions nationwide enable our student volunteers to nurture their talents through hands-on involvement in high-impact projects and experiential learning while allowing them to give back to society.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am very proud of YSS's exemplary efforts and achievements as one of the vital hubs of youth volunteerism in Southeast Asia. I am deeply grateful to the Board, management team, strategic partners, and key stakeholders for their perpetual support and dedication, which made this year memorable. Lest we develop any complacency through our endeavours, we hope to traverse our oncoming days with more impactful moves to usher in a better future for all.

Speech by CEO

Wong Kin Lun

CEO of Yayasan
Sukarelawan Siswa

Dear stakeholders,

Our path to empowering volunteerism for unity in 2023 has been marked by challenges and success. Despite the ever-changing nature of social challenges, Yayasan Sukarelawan Siswa (YSS) continues to deliver its aspirations to develop Malaysia as a hub for holistic volunteer leaders and to nurture national integration and unity among Malaysians. Over the years, we have touched the lives of those with diverse values and beliefs through our young and energetic contingents who carry a far-reaching impact and hope for a unified tomorrow.

As Malaysia is rapidly evolving towards its economic resilience, breakthroughs and innovations, the government also emphasises balanced human capital development and societal welfare through unity which is integral in pursuance of Malaysia MADANI's end goals. Under the auspices of the Ministry of National Unity (Kementerian Perpaduan Negara or KPN), YSS fortifies the National Unity Agenda by integrating youth participation in volunteerism efforts to act as a unity engine.

After a decade of volunteering excellence, the year 2023 witnessed the debut of Ini Warisan Kita: YSS Student Volunteers Mission series that extended its profound impacts towards the lives of more than 11,000 Sabahans in a joint effort with the KPN to the communities in Kudat, Kota Marudu and Papar, Sabah. This flagship programme is integral to the 'Kembara Perpaduan Malaysia MADANI' initiative devised by KPN, which aims to rejuvenate national integration and unity through experiential learning, understanding and cultural appreciation that offers a fresher perspective for the young graduates to humanise community interactions within the colourful spectrums of Malaysia's livelihood. Envisioning to do even more and better, we extended the programme's scope of reach to Sarawak as well to amplify our life-changing impacts on the community at large and the youths.

At YSS, we believe in the power of Youth Lead, Youth Initiate. Being a part of the bigger YSS family means more than just lending a helping hand. We aspire to become a global hub of volunteer leadership that is apparent through our actions and talents. We groom our potential future changemakers and volunteer leaders with extensive upskilling opportunities, training, mentoring and talent development. Through our improvement in the Volunteer Leadership Development Programme (VLDP) framework, we broadened the opportunities for undergraduate students from all higher learning institutions to embark on high-impact projects and volunteering discourses pioneered by YSS alumni that revolve around innovative and future-proof volunteerism modules. As of today, we have successfully gathered 2,067 alumni volunteers, touching the lives of more than 1 million beneficiaries through more than 8,000 successful projects.

Apart from our community empowerment endeavours, YSS's multi-faceted impact is also directed at nourishing the economy of the community and human capital development through special project partnerships with relevant agencies in the Sabah Program Pembangunan Ekonomi Komuniti Sabah 2023/2024 to recreate upskilling and income-generating abilities for 360 individuals over the comprehensive 6-month training modules. In addition, the YSS Mentoring and Coaching programme undertaken with the Suruhanjaya Koperasi Malaysia envisioned a thriving economic development through entrepreneurial approaches delivered to surrounding communities and eco-tourism enterprises in Kilim, Langkawi. Through a combined effort with the Federal Territories Department (JWP), the Program Usaha Jaya Insan has become another platform for YSS to stimulate the economic development of the communities in the Federal Territories of Kuala Lumpur and Labuan.

Our impact was equally visible globally as YSS embraced the internationalisation of our reach that transcends geographical boundaries by building a stronger volunteer network with volunteering organisations worldwide. Ever since YSS's first establishment, our student volunteer missions have also been redirected to several countries in Southeast Asia regions, namely Indonesia, Lao PDR and Vietnam. Our recently hosted annual conference for International Volunteering Cooperation Organisations (IVCO) 2023 Conference marked YSS's unwavering effort to heed the global call to uplift volunteerism practices that brought together delegates from the public and corporations around the world.

At YSS, we are aware of the existing social challenges and environmental concerns. Sustainability has become one of the guiding principles that we constantly embed throughout our operating frameworks. Through YSS's Six Volunteerism Pillars, we provide a substantive and holistic measure to ensure sustainability integration for the entirety of projects and activities. We believe actions speak louder, and the key to a better future lies in equitable educational opportunities, thus ensuring better access to quality education through YSS's K.A.M.I. Tuition and YSS Tuition Mission series. In 2023, over 3,000 mangrove trees were planted and five coastal cleanup projects were devised with active participation from 610 student volunteers in a chain of collaborative programmes with corporates.

Equipped with these insights into our 2023 spotlight, our path towards global volunteerism excellence is rather conspicuous to deliver life-changing impacts and positive growth towards national integration via shared responsibilities harnessed by our young volunteer contingents. Thank you to all of YSS's big family and strategic partners for your continuous support and willingness to jump into this wonderful year. Anticipate hearing more stories and progress from us for years to come as we forge our aspiration towards unified citizenship.

Introduction of

ini warisan kita

Ini Warisan Kita is one of YSS's key initiatives that focuses on the preservation and empowerment of the nation's cultural, historical, and environmental heritage. The programme is designed to raise awareness among youths on the importance of heritage as a symbol of national identity, while also encouraging their active involvement in sustaining the nation's treasures for future generations.

Culture, history, the arts, language, traditions, traditional beliefs, natural heritage, and local expertise that has been passed down through the years are all important components of the legacy in matter. When taken as a whole, these components serve as the basis of the country's identity and must be protected to prevent them from being lost due to the forces of modernity.

Chia Kah-Kuan/KEK-LES

PUTRAJAYA, July 4 (Bernama) -- The Ministry of National Unity (KPN) wants Yss (YSS) to be appointed as a leader in youth volunteering in the country, said Minister Aaron Ago Dagang.

For that purpose, Aaron said KPN will work with the Ministry of Higher Education and Vocational Training (KEMAHAM) to provide support services to the development level of higher education institutions (IPT) through credit-construction program.

"Volunteering should be the essence of social integration that can be used to the development of the community."

"The volunteer culture among the younger generation needs to be strengthened with the spirit of love for the country and mutual respect between races in this country," launching ceremony of Yss Green Summer Volunteer Campaign (GSCV) Study Vietnam 2024 here today.

Aaron said a total of 50 IPT students who are participating in the mission will be in the country until August 9.

He said, all the volunteers will be sent to four different locations namely Thoi An, Tam Coc, and Phong Nha to work hand in hand in carrying out volunteer activities.

"Among the main projects that have been identified are building friendship houses, renovating agricultural parks, building landscaping in community areas and planting trees."

He said that the participation and involvement of students in activities based on patriotic enthusiasm and goodwill in line with the new theme of the 10th anniversary of the Yss.

GSCV which has been organized since 1994 has involved the participation of over 100,000 who participate in volunteering and community programmes for a month.

Meanwhile, in the press conference, Aaron said the draft Harmony Charter is now in the final stage of being launched this year.

"It is being finalized and we are planning many Harmony Tour programmes now," he said.

On March 25, Aaron was reported to have said that KPN together with the Institute of Policy Studies (IPS) is studying the charter and will bring the proposal up to achieve prosperity and concept of MADANI Malaysia.
